Subject index*

A

Abstracts of papers presented at APIC '82, 111
Acinetobacter calcoaceticus, single strain of, recovered during nosocomial outbreak, progressive resistance in (Carlquist, Conti, and Burke), 43
American Journal of Infection Control: past, present, and future (Castle and Klimek), 1 (Editorial)
Arizona hinshawii, overwhelming infection by, in cancer patient, relation to snake pill ingestion (Fainstein et al.), 147 (Brief report)

B

Bain circuit system for respiratory therapy of pediatric patients, surveillance study of (Trapana et al.), 128
Blood cultures, pseudo-positive, caused by contamination in humidified incubator (Jones et al.), 109 (Brief report) transfusion to chronic hemodialysis patients, presumed transfer of hepatitis antibody by (Carta), 34 (Brief report)
Broviac and Hickman catheters, risk of infection associated with use of (Begala, Maher, and Cherry), 17

Cancer patient, overwhelming Arizona hinshawii infection in, relation to snake pill ingestion (Fainstein et al.), 147 (Brief report)
Coccidioidomycosis, pseudoepidemic of (Nunez et al.), 68 (Brief report)
Contamination in humidified incubator causing pseudo-positive blood cultures (Jones et al.), 109 (Brief report)
Cost and benefit—critical issue for hospital infection control (McGowan), 100 (Fifth Annual National Foundation for Infectious Diseases Lecture)
Customizing infection control educational programs within health care facility: challenge vs. requirement (Christel), 138 (Special article)

Decade of dedication (Parret), 84 (Editorial)
Definition and comparability of nosocomial infection rates (Madison and Afifi), 49

E

Education—past, present, and future (Pfaff), 133 (Third Annual Carole de Mille Lecture)
Employee health and infection control: epidemiology and priorities for program development (Valenti et al.), 149 (Brief report)
Epidemiologic methods, analytic, for research on nosocomial infections: definitions and examples (Boivin), 87
Epidemiology and priorities for program development: infection control and employee health (Valenti et al.), 149 (Brief report)

F

From newsletter to journal: 10-year review (Castle and Klimek), 79 (Editorial)

G

Global eradication of smallpox (Strassburg), 53

H

Handwashing behavior of patient care personnel, factors influencing (Larson and Killien), 93
Hemodialysis patients (chronic), blood transfusion to, presumed transfer of hepatitis antibody by (Carta), 34 (Brief report)
Hepatitis antibody, presumed transfer by blood transfusion to chronic hemodialysis patients (Carta), 34 (Brief report)
Hickman and Broviac catheters, risk of infection associated with use of (Begala, Maher, and Cherry), 17
Hospital infection control, cost and benefit as critical issue for (McGowan), 100
  -wide surveillance: perspective for practitioners (Landry, Donowitz, and Wenzel), 66 (Brief report)
Hydrogen peroxide instillations into urinary drainage bag: should we or shouldn't we (Sarubbi, Rutala, and Samsa), 72 (Commentary)

I

Infection control educational programs, customizing within health care facility: challenge vs. requirement (Christel), 138 (Special article) and employee health: epidemiology and priorities for program development (Valenti et al.), 149 (Brief report) hospital, cost and benefit as critical issue for (McGowan), 100 laboratorians, surveillance and control activities compared to those of infection control nurses in United States hospitals, 1976-1977 (Emori et al.), 3 liaison nurse used in program for infection surveillance (Ross), 24 nurses, surveillance and control activities compared to those of infection control laboratorians in United States hospitals, 1976-1977 (Emori et al.), 3
  nosocomial; see Nosocomial infection postoperative wound, detected during hospitalization and after discharge in community hospital (Burns and Dippe), 60 risk of, associated with use of Broviac and Hickman catheters (Begala, Maher, and Cherry), 17 surveillance program utilizing infection control liaison nurse (Ross), 24

N

Nosocomial infection(s), analytic epidemiologic methods for research on (Boivin), 87 rates, definition and comparability (Madison and Afifi), 49

*February, pp. 1-42; May, pp. 43-78; August, pp. 79-120; November, pp. 121-166.

Nosocomial—cont'd
outbreak, single strain of Acinetobacter calcoaceticus recovered during, progressive resistance in (Carlquist, Conti, and Burke), 43

P

Patient care personnel, handwashing behavior of, factors influencing (Larson and Killien), 93
Pediatric patients receiving respiratory therapy by Bain circuit system, surveillance study of (Trapana et al.), 128
Postoperative wound infections detected during hospitalization and after discharge in community hospital (Burns and Dippe), 60
Prenatal clinic, rubella outbreak in: management and prevention (Fliegel and Weinstein), 29
Pseudoepidemic of coccidioidomycosis (Nunez et al.), 68 (Brief report)
Pseudo-positive blood cultures caused by contamination in humidified incubator (Jones et al.), 109 (Brief report)

R

Respiratory therapy by Bain circuit system, pediatric patients receiving, surveillance study of (Trapana et al.), 128
Rubella outbreak in prenatal clinic: management and prevention (Fliegel and Weinstein), 29 vaccination program, factors influencing participation in (Fischer, Jungkind, and Nieman), 121

Smallpox, global eradication of (Strassburg), 53
Snake pill ingestion, related to overwhelming Arizona hinshawii infection in cancer patient (Fainstein et al.), 147 (Brief report)
Surveillance and control activities of infection control nurses and infection control laboratorians, compared in United States hospitals, 1976-1977 (Emori et al.), 3 hospital-wide: perspective for practitioner (Landry, Donowitz, and Wenzel), 66 (Brief report) program, infection, utilizing infection control liaison nurse (Ross), 24 study of pediatric patients receiving respiratory therapy with Bain circuit system (Trapana et al.), 128

U

Urinary drainage bag, hydrogen peroxide instillations into (Sarubbi, Rutala, and Samsa), 72 (Commentary)

V

Vaccination program, rubella, factors influencing participation in (Fischer, Jungkind, and Nieman), 121

W

Wound infections, postoperative, detected during hospitalization and after discharge in community hospital (Burns and Dippe), 60
